GENERAL INFORMATION

About INCM and CPC

The International Network of Children's Ministry (INCM) has served children's ministry leaders for over 40 years.

The mission, connecting children's ministry leaders to what they need so they can do what God has called them to do, is driven by a belief that children's ministry has an integral role in shaping the future of the church.

CPC is the largest independent event uniquely designed to help leaders thrive in children's ministry. This annual gathering is a live expression of the mission of INCM.

Each year, breakout speakers are invited into this mission and make a lasting impact on leaders at CPC as they help connect them to the training they need to continue to champion the discipleship of kids and families.

CPC Breakout Philosophy

The purpose of breakouts is to train children's ministry leaders on skills, knowledge, and attitudes that will aid them in their role in Children's Ministry.

Breakout training should empower leaders with education immediately applicable to their ministries.

CPC serves a wide range of leaders. Breakout Speakers should develop their sessions in such a way that honors the diverse ministry contexts represented.

INCM is an independent ministry and therefore breakouts are not to sell ministry products or resources.

RESOURCE PROVIDERS AND COACHING

Information for Resource Provider Applicants »

INCM defines a Resource Provider as a person who works for an organization that supports the Children's Ministry community in the capacity of organizational partnership with INCM through year-round initiatives or as an exhibitor at CPC. This includes:

- Contracted employee that represents the organization throughout the year.
- Sponsored Speakers
- Paid Staff Members

INCM desires to see Resource Providers taking the opportunity to teach and coach throughout the CPC event. It is a fantastic way to meet the community and connect them to the tools and resources they need.

It is important to note, however, that acceptance as a breakout speaker does not mean automatic acceptance into the Resource Center. Likewise, an organization's acceptance into the Resource Center in no way indicates automatic acceptance as a breakout speaker. These opportunities require separate application processes that are overseen by two different departments of INCM. These processes do not influence each other.

Any Resource Provider applying to be a Breakout Speaker should indicate that on his/her application.

Coaching Opportunities »

During CPC, attendees have the opportunity to schedule a free, 30-minute coaching appointment where they connect one-on-one with a ministry expert who will coach them through a specific ministry issue.

Anyone interested in becoming a coach should indicate that on their application and feel free to contact Joy Goodwin at joy.goodwin@incm.org with any questions.

OUR PROCESS

BREAKOUT COMMITTEE

Each breakout application is reviewed by trusted active children's ministry practitioners, trainers, and academics.

Applications that advance through initial screening will be scored using the following criteria: Relevance, uniqueness, clarity of focus, usefulness of takeaways, and overall helpfulness to the leader.

Additionally, each speaker will be evaluated by his/her level of engagement in the children's ministry leader community and more. See the page called "Speaker Qualifications".

FAQs

Do I receive any compensation for teaching at CPC25?

Yes, should you be chosen to speak, compensation details will be outlined in your agreement.

Would any of my travel costs be covered?

No. Due to the number of speakers present at CPC, it is not feasible for INCM to provide for travel, meal, and accommodation expenses for each breakout speaker.

What if I want to collaborate with other speakers for a breakout?

If you would like to co-teach a breakout with another speaker(s), please email Mahogany and you will receive your next steps.

Can I participate in the rest of the conference?

All CPC Breakout Speakers receive complimentary access to the entire event, and we highly encourage each speaker to participate as fully in the event as possible.
